

THAILAND MEDICAL TOURISM AND HEALTHCARE TRADE FAIR

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 2007

MANDALAY BAY CONFERENCE CENTER
3950 LAS VEGAS BOULEVARD SOUTH
LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

As the cost of healthcare services continues to escalate, people with high insurance deductibles, limited-benefit plans, or no insurance at all, can potentially save a great deal of money by seeking medical care abroad. A procedure that might cost $50,000 in the United States could cost a patient just 20 percent of that figure if performed in Thailand and other countries. As a result, Americans are scheduling surgeries from angioplasty to knee replacements at hospitals around the world. An estimated 150,000 Americans traveled abroad for medical care last year.

Individuals interested in medical tourism are invited to attend the Thailand Medical Tourism and Healthcare Trade Fair to learn about the types of services available and the benefits of overseas healthcare services. Find out more about high-quality, cost-effective overseas medical care options for cosmetic surgery, dental procedures, women's health, heart conditions, gastrointestinal disorders, and more.
